

Course Number	38221	Class	00
Course Title	Seminar in International Trade Policy
No. of Credit	3-3-0
Professor	Wood Jacob Graeme
Department	International Trade

Pre-requisite

There is no pre-requisite for this course.

1.Objective

The main objective of this course is to provide an introduction and overview of the key issues facing the field of international trade policy. The course will cover a range of factors international trade theory, trade policy, FTA negotiations, economic integration case studies, and the issue of trade protectionism including an analysis of non-trade barriers.

2.Grading

The course will be graded based on the results of achieved through internal and external assessments.

3.Required Texts

There is no required textbook for this course.

4.Assignments

The assignments for this course consist of a mid-term and final exam, presentation and classroom exercises.

5.Syllabus

- Week 1: Class Introduction
- Week 2: Today ' s global trading environment
- Week 3: Cross-cultural communication
- Week 4: International negotiation
- Week 5: Putnam two-level game analysis
- Week 6: Case Study: New Zealand Trade Policy
- Week 7: Presentation Assessment (1)
- Week 8: Midterm exam
- Week 9: The role of international trade in development
- Week 10: Green economic development
- Week 11: Case Study: Korea FTA analysis
- Week 12: Regional economic integration and the role of the WTO
- Week 13: Presentation Assessment (2)
- Week 14: Case study analysis: The EU
- Week 15: Trade protectionism: the growth of Non-tariff barriers
- Week 16: Final Exam

6.Additional References

Additional references will be made available when necessary.